

ALE method for converging geometry

A.Burbeau, B.Roche

July 15, 2002

This talk will focus on specific algorithms used for the computation of convergent fluid flows in the context of ICF shell implosions. We will discuss the use of polar versus cartesian coordinates and illustrate the behaviour of various algorithms.